"Let's Rock the World! "

James Kim (Leader of Passionate People of God)

As we are preparing for Camp AGAPE 2015, I realize how lucky I am to be a part of something very special. Camp AGAPE is truly the result of the hard work of many dedicated volunteers and awesome participants.

Passionate People of God (aka PPOG) has been a part of Camp AGAPE since five years ago and every year my team and I were too busy preparing for the program and praise motions. However, after so many years I never really grasped the magnitude of this event until now.

Camp AGAPE 2015, theme has been decided to be "Let's See the World". In order to show our participants the various cultures around the world, I was given the task to reach out into the community to recruit and request volunteers of different ethnicities and cultures. As I am reaching out to the community, I am reminded again of how incredible a blessing it is to be a part of a program such as Camp AGAPE. Especially being able to talk to the community leaders and volunteers, I realized that many programs and events such as Camp AGAPE are not offered through other organizations within our community.

Now, as I contact and look for community volunteers to be part of Camp AGAPE, I believed it was going to be easy. Who wouldn't want to participate in something so wonderful? I was so sure that people would be lined up to come and join Camp AGAPE. However, it wasn't that easy. Being part of Camp AGAPE or any type of program would be considered a huge commitment in time, finance and emotions. Many agree that this camp is a great event but were skeptical in making necessary sacrifices to commit and serve it.

By the grace of God, with only one month remaining, I finally have found a team of performers to show the various cultures of our communities to our participant. Although it may not be the world yet, it will the start of the beginning of their journey. This journey is an opportunity, not just for our participants to see the world, but the world to see us. Camp AGAPE is not known to the world, however, as we reach out to the community, they can be more aware of individuals with developmental disabilities and the programs open to them. We hope that by opening doors and bringing in volunteers from different cultural groups, this can be the start in helping build awareness so that eventually, the world may begin to love and advocate for our individuals with developmental disabilities. Let the world see how a small grain of wheat planted yield a harvest of souls praising our King Jesus Christ in whatever obstacles lay before us!

So to the audience reading this, pat yourself on the back for being part of this amazing journey. You are truly an awesome human being. Let's rock the world!

We are down to our last month in preparing for Camp AGAPE 2015! Please keep us in your prayers as we set out to see a world filled with Christ's love and grace!
